

SHIPPING AND HANDLING for Paris in a Chocolate™

Please take a moment and read thoroughly all of our shipping information. It is imperative that our chocolate is delivered in perfect condition to you. Because chocolate is a perishable product great care and efforts must be made.

- We take care in packaging our chocolate for transit and delivery for our customers.
- All shipments must be overnight between April to October.
- All shipments to addresses outside of North America are overnight service only. No exceptions.
- As chocolate is a perishable product, our ground shipping days are Monday - Wednesday. This protects your order from possible delays in post office or courier warehouses over a weekend where temperatures may not be controlled.
- We package our chocolate in a manner to ensure it remains intact to the destination.
- You have the option to choose from the following for shipping: United States Postal System (USPS), Canada Post, or UPS.
- Your selection of delivery method will be reflected in your shipping charge.
- Shipping to any destination that is 70F/21C or warmer will be shipped in our special styrofoam coolers with custom lined ice packs. There are no exceptions.
- Please inform us within 24 hours if your chocolate has not arrived in perfect condition. We will assess the situation in an equitable manner.
- We will not be responsible for human errors in providing shipping information or in the delivery process of the preferred transit method.
